III. Система оценки образовательных достижений обучающихся

Оценка индивидуальных образовательных достижений по результатам текущего контроля успеваемости и промежуточной аттестации производится в соответствии с универсальной шкалой (таблица).

Процент результативности (правильных ответов)	Качественная оценка индивидуальных образовательных достижений
	балл (отметка)	вербальный аналог
90 - 100	5	отлично
80 - 89	4	хорошо
70 - 79	3	удовлетворительно
менее 70	2	неудовлетворительно

Критерии оценки ответов в ходе устного опроса

Оценивается правильность ответа обучающегося на один из приведенных вопросов. При этом выставляются следующие оценки:

«Отлично» выставляется при соблюдении следующих условий:

- полно раскрыл содержание материала в объеме, предусмотренном программой, содержанием лекции и учебником;
- изложил материал грамотным языком в определенной логической последовательности, точно используя специализированную терминологию и символику;
- показал умение иллюстрировать теоретические положения конкретными примерами, применять их в новой ситуации при выполнении практического задания;
- продемонстрировал усвоение ранее изученных сопутствующих вопросов, сформированность и устойчивость используемых при ответе умений и навыков;
- отвечал самостоятельно без наводящих вопросов преподавателя. Возможны одна-две неточности при освещении второстепенных вопросов или в выкладках, которые обучающийся легко исправил по замечанию преподавателя.

«Хорошо» - ответ удовлетворяет в основном требованиям на оценку «5», но при этом имеет один из недостатков:

- в изложении допущены небольшие пробелы, не исказившие логического и информационного содержания ответа;
- допущены один-два недочета при освещении основного содержания ответа, исправленные по замечанию преподавателя;
- допущены ошибка или более двух недочетов при освещении второстепенных вопросов или в выкладках, легко исправленные по замечанию преподавателя.

«Удовлетворительно» выставляется при соблюдении следующих условий:

- неполно или непоследовательно раскрыто содержание материала, но показано общее понимание вопроса и продемонстрированы умения, достаточные для дальнейшего усвоения программного материала, имелись затруднения или допущены ошибки в определении понятий, использовании терминологии и выкладках, исправленные после нескольких наводящих вопросов преподавателя;
- обучающийся не справился с применением теории в новой ситуации при выполнении практического задания, но выполнил задания обязательного уровня сложности по данной теме;
- при знании теоретического материала выявлена недостаточная сформированность основных умений и навыков.

«Неудовлетворительно» выставляется при соблюдении следующих условий:

- не раскрыто основное содержание учебного материала;
- обнаружено незнание или непонимание обучающимся большей или наиболее важной части учебного материала;
- допущены ошибки в определении понятий, при использовании терминологии и иных выкладках, которые не исправлены после нескольких наводящих вопросов преподавателя;
- обучающийся обнаружил полное незнание и непонимание изучаемого учебного материала или не смог ответить ни на один из поставленных вопросов по изучаемому материалу.

Критерии оценки выполненного практического задания (письменный контроль)

Оценка 5 ставится за работу, выполненную полностью без ошибок и недочётов.

Оценка 4 ставится за работу, выполненную полностью, но при наличии в ней не более одной негрубой ошибки и одного недочёта, не более трёх недочётов.

Оценка 3 ставится, если обучающийся правильно выполнил не менее 2/3 всей работы или допустил не более одной грубой ошибки и двух недочётов, не более одной грубой и одной не грубой ошибки, не более трёх негрубых ошибок, одной негрубой ошибки и трёх недочётов, при наличии четырёх-пяти недочётов.

Оценка 2 ставится, если число ошибок и недочётов превысило норму для оценки 3 или правильно выполнено менее 2/3 всей работы.

Оценка 1 ставится, если обучающийся совсем не выполнил ни одного задания.

Критерии оценки выполненного тестового задания

Результат аттестационного педагогического измерения по учебной дисциплине «Иностранный язык в профессиональной деятельности» для каждого обучающегося представляет собой сумму зачтенных тестовых заданий по всему тесту. Зачтенное тестовое задание соответствует одному баллу.

Критерием освоения учебной дисциплины для обучающегося является количество правильно выполненных заданий теста не менее 70 %.

Для оценки результатов тестирования предусмотрена следующая система оценивания образовательных достижений обучающихся:

- за каждый правильный ответ ставится 1 балл;
- за неправильный ответ - 0 баллов.

Тестовые оценки можно соотнести с общепринятой пятибалльной системой. Оценивание осуществляется по следующей схеме:

Процент результативности (правильных ответов)	Качественная оценка индивидуальных образовательных достижений
	балл (отметка)	вербальный аналог
90 - 100	5	отлично
80 - 89	4	хорошо
70 - 79	3	удовлетворительно
менее 70	2	неудовлетворительно

Критерии оценки в ходе дифференцированного зачета

Ответ оценивается на «отлично», если обучающийся исчерпывающе, последовательно, грамотно и логически стройно излагает материал по вопросам билета, не затрудняется с ответом при видоизменении задания, свободно справляется с решением практических задач и способен обосновать принятые решения, не допускает ошибок.

Ответ оценивается на «хорошо», если обучающийся твердо знает программный материал, грамотно и по существу его излагает, не допускает существенных неточностей при ответах, умеет грамотно применять теоретические знания на практике, а также владеет необходимыми навыками решения практических задач.

Ответ оценивается на «удовлетворительно», если обучающийся освоил только основной материал, однако не знает отдельных деталей, допускает неточности и некорректные формулировки, нарушает последовательность в изложении материала и испытывает затруднения при выполнении практических заданий.

Ответ оценивается на «неудовлетворительно», если обучающийся не раскрыл основное содержание материала, допускает существенные ошибки, с большими затруднениями выполняет практические задания.

I. Education in Russia

Levels of education

Education in Russia is compulsory for children between the ages of 6 and 15. It consists of primary school education for ages 6-10, followed by senior school for ages 10-15. If a pupil of secondary school wishes to go on in higher education, he or she must remain to complete secondary school for 2 more years, from ages 15-17.

Primary and secondary school includes 11 years of study. Every school has a core curriculum of academic subjects. After completing this stage, pupils are awarded the Attestat o Srednem (Polnom) Obshchem Obrazovanii (Certificate of Secondary Complete General Education).

At 15 years old, children may choose to enter a vocational school or non-university institute. These typically offer programmes of academic subjects and a programme of training in a technical field until students reach 17 or 18. Such institutions used to be called technikum but now most of them are known as colleges.

Classwork often means reciting and written and oral testing. Criticism by the teacher in front of the class is frequent. If a student does not perform to standard, they will be 'left back' to remain another year.

School hours and holidays

The Russian school year is comprised of 4 terms with vacations in between; 1 week in November, 2 weeks in January, 1 week in March and nearly 3 months in summer. School is held from September 1 until the final week of May, with exams in June.

The school day normally starts at 8 a.m. and finishes at 1 or 2 in the afternoon. Students generally attend class 5 days a week, although some schools require extra study on Saturdays.

A typical lesson lasts 40 - 45 minutes with a 5 -15 minute break in between. In primary school students have 4 classes a day. This increases to 5 or 6 classes a day in secondary school, and 6 or 7 at a senior high school.

A normal class consists of 20-30 students. In primary school, pupils have one teacher for all the subjects taught.

Types of schools in Russia

There are usual state schools in Russia, in addition, state and private Lyceums and gymnasias. It is a serious problem for the parents to decide, which school their child should attend. The quality of the education in state schools is not always so good, as in gymnasias. But gymnasias are much more expensive. Different additional subjects are also taught in gymnasias, and that may be difficult for children. However, state schools, Lyceums and gymnasias are subordinated generally to the unified educational system of Russia.

During three or four years a child goes to the primary school where he studies only simple subjects, like mathematics and reading, for example. Then the middle school begins, the list of the subjects is enlarged. Every school has its main teaching program, the Russian language, literature, mathematics, natural sciences and body culture belong to it.

The primary school and the middle school last up to 11 years, but already after 9 years children can go to a college (or vocational school). If a pupil wants to go on the university, he must attend the school for two years more.

After leaving the middle school, the Lyceums, the gymnasias, or the vocational school one can get the higher education. All entrants must pass entrance examinations. Today these entrance examinations are often connected with final examinations. That is if one has passed the final examinations well, the entrance examinations won't already be necessary. Moreover, one can pay for the high education and also pass no entrance examinations.

At the university specialists are trained. Students study at the university during four years, then they get the Bachelor degree. Then one can study more for two years to get the master's degree. The master's degree is considered to be an advantage for potential employers.

Boarding schools

The Suvorov Military Schools are a type of boarding school in the former Soviet Union and in modern Russia and Belarus for boys of 14–18. Education in such these schools focuses on military related subjects. The schools are named after Alexander Suvorov, the great 18th century general.

Their naval counterparts among Russian military schools for teenagers are the Nakhimov Naval Schools. They are named after Pavel Nakhimov, the 19th century admiral.

This type of schools was created in the USSR during the Great Patriotic War in December, 1943 to provide boys of school age, particularly those from families of military personnel, with a secondary education specializing in military (Army, Navy, Intelligence, etc.) subjects and training. Boarding school aspect was particularly important at the time because many students were war orphans, either without parents or with only surviving mother unable to support them.

A number of Suvorov/Nakhimov Military Schools still exist in the CIS countries (including Belarus). The Suvorov schools in Russia are now subordinate to the Commander-in-Chief of the Russian Ground Forces.

II. Education in England

Levels of education

In some areas of England there are nursery schools for children under 5 years of age. Some children between two and five receive education in nursery classes or in infants classes in primary schools. Many children attend informal pre-school play-groups organised by parents in private homes. Nursery schools are staffed with teachers and students in training. There are all kinds of toys to keep the children busy from 9 o'clock in the morning till 4 o'clock in the afternoon while their parents are at work. Here the babies play, lunch and sleep. They can run about and play in safety with someone keeping an eye on them.

For day nurseries which remain open all the year round the parents pay according to their income. The local education authority's nurseries are free. But only about three children in 100 can go to them: there aren't enough places, and the waiting lists are rather long.

Most children start school at 5 in a primary school. A primary school may be divided into two parts—infants and juniors. At infants school reading, writing and arithmetic are taught for about 20 minutes a day during the first year, gradually increasing to about 2 hours in their last year. There is usually no written timetable. Much time is spent in modelling from clay or drawing, reading or singing.

By the time children are ready for the junior school they will be able to read and write, do simple addition and subtraction of numbers.

At 7 children go on from the infants school to the junior school. This marks the transition from play to «real work». The children have set periods of arithmetic, reading and composition which are all Eleven Plus subjects. History, Geography, Nature Study, Art and Music, Physical Education, Swimming are also on the timetable.

Pupils were streamed according to their abilities to learn into A, B, C and D streams. The least gifted are in the D stream. Formally towards the end of their fourth year the pupils wrote their Eleven Plus Examination. The hated 11 + examination was a selective procedure on which not only the pupils' future schooling but their future careers depended. The abolition of selection at Eleven Plus Examination brought to life comprehensive schools where pupils can get secondary education.

There are some types of secondary schools in England. They are: grammar schools, modern schools and comprehensive schools.

Secondary Schools. At the age of 11 when children leave junior school to start the second stage of their education they go to assessment centers or for interviews at local secondary schools. This system has replaced the old selective examination (it was called "Eleven Plus Examination") which was much criticized by teachers and parents. Nowadays most of the secondary schools in Great Britain have gone over to be comprehensive system. Almost 50% of all secondary schools are single sex.

The Comprehensive Schools take all children over eleven regardless of their supposed intelligence. In these schools children are not separated according to ability. On graduating, the students can enter universities, colleges, polytechnics or other higher educational establishments.

The organization of state schooling is not centralized as in most European countries. Firstly, there is no prescribed curriculum. Secondly, the types of school available and the age ranges vary in different parts of the country. State schooling in the United Kingdom is financed partly by the government and partly by local rates.

Pupils going on to higher education or professional training usually take "A" level examinations in two or three subjects. Universities accept students mainly on the basis of their "A" level results.

There are forty-seven universities in Britain and thirty former polytechnics, plus 350 colleges and institutes of higher education.

The most famous universities are Oxford and Cambridge, called "Oxbridge".

School hours and holidays

The English academic year runs from September to July.

Schools are open for 195 days each school year.

Types of schools in England

The main categories of school are:-

- local authority maintained schools (State Schools)

Free to all children between the ages of 5 - 16

- independent schools. (Private/Public Schools)

- Parents pay for their children's' education.

State Schools

In the UK 93% of the children in England and Wales go to "state schools". State schools are non fee-paying, funded from taxes and most are organized by Local Authorities (LA).

Parents are expected to make sure that their child has a pen, pencil, ruler etc. but the cost of other more specialized equipment, books, examination fees are covered by the school.

Parents are, however, expected to pay for their child's school uniform and items of sports wear. Charges may also be made for music lessons and for board and lodgings on residential trips. Schools may ask for voluntary contributions for school time activities - but no pupil may be left out of an activity if their parents or guardian cannot or do not contribute.

Fee Paying Schools

Independent

Schools

7% of the children in England go to independent schools. Independent schools are known as private schools and public schools . Parents pay for their children to attend these schools.

Nursery/Kindergarten 2 to 4 years

Pre-preparatory 3 or 4 to 7 years

Preparatory 7 to 11 or 13 years

Public 11 or 13 to 18 years

Boarding schools

One of top boarding schools in England! A great residential school in academically oriented Cambridge! Abbey College in Cambridge is an independent 6th form college that offers a stimulating environment in which staff and students work together to achieve academic success. There are about 260 students at the college, almost all of whom are in the 6th form and preparing for the General Certificate of Education at A-level.

Abbey College Cambridge is part of the Alpha Plus Group and aims to maintain a 'gold standard' of education. Classes are small, so enabling students and teachers to focus upon the most effective ways of learning.

The track record of Abbey College Cambridge students speaks for itself. Our results have established the college as one of the very best independent 6th form colleges in Great Britain. In the 2012 A-level examinations our students achieved the following pass rates: grade A* 40%, grade A*/A 72% and grade A*/B 89%.

The city of Cambridge is a fusion of the everyday and the extraordinary. It is a city that has shaped history and continues to make its mark on the future.

The Hermitage

One of the world-wide known museums is the Hermitage. The word "Hermitage" means "a place of solitude". This name was given in the XVIII century by Catherine II to her private museum housed in a small building adjacent to the Winter Palace and accessible only to the chosen few. In the course of time, the Hermitage grew into one of the greatest museums of the world. At the present, the collections take up five interconnected buildings. The museum retains its old name. The accumulation of artifacts led to the formation of new departments devoted to the culture and art of the Peoples of the East, of the Prehistoric culture, and of the Russian culture. Three other departments are those of Western European art, classical antiquities and numismatics. One of the rooms that impressed visitors the most is St. George Hall. The interior of the room is considered by experts to be a perfect example of the Classical Style. The room covers about 800 square metres, but does not seem enormous due to perfect proportions. It is decorated in the whitest marble and gilded bronze. The Throne Hall was used for column assemblies. Members of the Tzar's family, when coming of age, took their oaths here. The Leonardo da Vinci Hall is one of the most gorgeous interiors. The hall is decorated in the style of 17th century French Baroque. The Hermitage possesses two, out of 12 or 14 works surviving from Leonardo. The Rembrandt collection is one of the most treasured possessions of the museum. It contains 24 canvases. The Malachite Room reflects the style of 1889. The columns, pilasters, and floor lamps are veneered with thin plaques of rich green malachite. About two tons of malachite were used in decoration of the room.

My Attitude to Sports

Let me tell you about my own attitude to sports and sportsmen.

To begin with I must say that sport is one of the things that always keep people fit. I think that everyone must do all he can to be healthy. Physically inactive people get older earlier than those who have plenty of exercises. If you do daily exercises regularly you feel refreshed, have a good posture and that makes you feel well.

Wise people say that good health is a great blessing. Everyone should do all possible to stay healthy. Being in good health means having both body and mind in good working order free from diseases and pain.

There is a truthful Latin proverb: «A sound mind is in a sound body». If you want to keep yourself fit, you are to go in for sports.

Sport is very popular in our family. Together with my father we do our usual morning exercises at home and twice a week we have our basketball training in the sports club and in summer we like to swim most of all, because swimming makes a man healthy and strong.

I'm a hockey fan, too. I try to watch every hockey match on TV. Moreover I take part in different sports competitions which our school organizes from time to time. The most popular kinds of sport in our school are football, basketball, gymnastics, and wrestling. Some boys are also fond of boxing. Among girls calisthenics is very popular. All these sports have their strong supporters.

My favourite kind of sport is tennis. I have been playing it since I was eleven years old, and the more I play it, the more I like it. There is a good tennis court not far from my house and I often go there with my friends.

Questions:

- 1) Why should people go in for sports?
- 2) Is sport one of the things that always keep people fit?
- 3) What do wise people say about good health?
- 4) What kind of sport are you fond of?
- 5) Why are you fond of this kind of sport?

Sport in Our Life

People all over the world are fond of sports and games.

Sport makes people healthy, keeps them fit, more organized and better disciplined. It unites people of different classes and nationalities. Many people do sports on their personal initiative. They go in for skiing, skating, table tennis, swimming, volley-ball, football, body-building, etc.

All necessary facilities are provided for them: stadiums, sport grounds, swimming pools, skating rinks, skiing stations, football fields.

Sport is paid much attention to in our educational establishments. Gymnastics is a part of children's daily activities in the kindergartens. Physical culture is a compulsory subject at schools and colleges.

Professional sport is also paid much attention to in our country. In city, where I live, there are different sporting societies, clubs and complexes.

Practically all kinds of sports are popular in our country, but football, gymnastics and tennis enjoy the greatest popularity. As for me, I go in for table tennis (ping-pong). It needs mobility, liveliness and much energy. It keeps a person in a good form. I have been playing tennis for five years, but the more I play, the more I like it. I get a real joy taking part in competitions or simply playing with my friends. Sometimes, I go to tennis courts. Certainly, there's a great distance between my manner of playing and such favourite as Jim Courier, Stephan Edberg, Pete Sampras, Boris Becker but I do my training with great pleasure and hope to play as well as our best players do.

Questions:

1. Why are people all over the world fond of sports and games?

Athletics is the most popular sport. People call it “the queen of all sports”. It comprises such kinds of sports as running (for different distances), jumping (long and high jumps) and others.

There are so many kinds of sports, such as cycling, swimming, gymnastics, boxing, skating, skiing, rowing and many more in which you can take an active part.

Have you ever wondered what happens when athletes reach the end of their careers and no longer have to spend hours in the gym or on the field each day? How do they keep their muscles strong and bellies flat — if they do? By talking to former American star athletes, it was found out: they do the same things other people must do in order to stay fit. Bonnie Blair, who was the first speed skater to win gold in three consecutive Olympic Games, has a very tough conditioning schedule, especially after the recent birth of her second child. She spends from one to two hours on conditioning five days a week. To stay fit Bonnie runs, lifts weights, rides her bike or goes in for skating. Phil Mahre was the top American man in Alpine ski racing during the late 1970s and early 1980s. In slalom, he won a silver medal in the 1980 Winter Olympics and a gold in the 1984 Games. His record of capturing three overall World Cup titles has never been duplicated by another U.S. racer. He retired in 1984. Now Mahre runs a Colorado ski camp with his brother Steve, another top Alpine racer. Phil keeps himself in shape by doing a little bit of everything. He skies a fair amount in the wintertime. During the summers he water-skis, plays in a local softball team and competes in an adult soccer league. Bart Oates, who played 11 years in the National Football League, works out three days a week, usually early in the morning for about 90 minutes. He spends 30 minutes doing physical exercises, using a rowing machine or a stationary bike. Then he follows with an hour of weights. When Bart can find the time, he augments his program by swimming or playing tennis or golf. Harold Reynolds, a former second baseman, who played 12 years in major league baseball, tries to do some stretching and strengthening exercises every day, sit-ups, push-ups, things like that. And when he can, he tries to run or play different sports, whether it's squash, ice-skating or basketball.

Dr Jigoro Kano is considered to be the Father of Judo. By combining the best techniques of various schools into one system he could create a physical education program that would embody mental and physical skill. In 1882 Kano presented his new sport — Judo. He called this sport Kodokan Judo. The term Kodokan breaks down into ko (lecture, study, method), do (way or path) and kan (hall or place). Thus it means "a place to study the way". Similarly judo breaks down into ju (gentle) and do (way or path) or "the gentle way". Kano established his own judo school, called the Kodokan. In 1886, because of rivalry between jujitsu schools and judo, a contest was held to determine the superior art. Kano's judo students won the competition easily, thus establishing the superiority of judo, its popular principles and its practical techniques. The categorization of Kodokan Judo was completed in 1887. The Kodokan Judo had three broad aims: physical education, contest proficiency and mental training. Starting in 1889 Kano left Japan to visit Europe and the U.S.A. He travelled abroad to teach judo and several times to attend the Olympics and its committee meetings. Several of his students devoted their lives to developing judo in foreign countries. In 1892 Judo began to spread its wings across the world. By 1910 judo was a recognized sport that could be safely engaged in and in 1911 it was adopted as a part of Japan's educational system. In 1962 the International Judo Federation was formed and became the governing body for judo internationally. When Japan hosted the 1964 Olympics, Judo was given its first opportunity as an event. Of the sixteen medals awarded for judo, Japan won three gold medals, and one silver medal. Judo was no longer a Japanese sport but had developed to become an international sport. Today judo is enjoyed by many people. There are many reasons for learning judo. Judo provides exercise, relaxation, sport, an interesting challenge, balance, coordination, self-protection and self-confidence. Judo develops a keen desire to coordinate mind and body.

Choosing an Occupation

One of the most difficult problems a young person faces is deciding what to do about a career. There are individuals, of course, who from the time they are six years old "know" that they want to be doctors or pilots or fire fighters, but the majority of us do not get around to making a decision about an occupation or career until somebody or something forces us to face the problem.

Choosing an occupation takes time, and there are a lot of things you have to think about as you try to decide what you would like to do. You may find that you will have to take special education in Czechia to qualify for a particular kind of work, or may find out that you will need to get some actual work experience to gain enough knowledge to qualify for a particular job.

Fortunately, there are a lot of people you can turn to for advice and help in making your decision. At most schools, there are teachers who are professionally qualified to counsel you and to give detailed information about job qualifications. And you can talk over your ideas with family members and friends who are always ready to listen and to offer suggestions. But even if you get other people involved in helping you make a decision, self evaluation is an important part of the decision-making process.

Vocabulary

to make a decision — принять решение to force — заставлять, принуждать, вынуждать qualify ['kwɒlɪfaɪ] for — готовиться к какой-л. деятельности; приобретать какую-л. квалификацию; получать право (на что-либо) to counsel ['kaʊnsəl] — давать совет; советовать, рекомендовать self evaluation [i,vælju'eɪʃn] — самооценка

Questions

1. What is the most difficult problem for a young person?
2. Why don't the majority of young people know what they want to be?
3. When do they make a decision about an occupation?
4. What things do you have to think about when choosing an occupation?
5. What should one do to qualify for a particular job?
6. Whom can you turn to for advice when making your decision?
7. What is the most important part of the decision-making process?

2. Озаглавьте текст.

Sooner or later all of us face the problem of choosing a career when we are to decide what we are going to be in future. Choosing a career is not a simple matter — in fact, it can be one of the most important in our life. You don't need to hurry making a decision. You should examine thoroughly your abilities and character, take a realistic view of your strengths and weaknesses, pay attention to your parents' and friends' advice and take into account your own preferences. The last point in the list is particularly important because there are many examples when people make great mistakes choosing their future profession. Sometimes they either simply follow in the footsteps of their parents or relatives or just blindly follow their advice. Your choice should be mostly based on your own opinion. Family traditions are good, but your turn of mind may be quite different. So, never base only on other people's opinion.

Having thought carefully about what sort of person you are, try to work out a list of your occupation requirements.

Nowadays there is a great variety of jobs to any taste. Choosing a future career, we should consider the following things.

- Pay. Is the size of your salary important? Generally speaking, it is important. Of course there may be various situations, but if you are going to be independent, successful and wealthy, you have to find a well-paid job. Moreover, if you are going to have a family, you should be ready to support it, to be a breadwinner. Naturally, you'd like to live in good conditions, and your children to study at good schools, and then to enter prestigious universities, to travel all around the world and so on. Now you understand why you should take money into consideration when choosing a job.

- Further training, promotion prospects and job conditions should also be kept in mind. Just after graduating it is very difficult to find a plum job which will respond to all your preferences. It is usually a monotonous, tedious clerical job, but if you are a capable and hard-working person, you will certainly be offered an opportunity to climb the ladder.

- Place of work. You ought to decide whether you want to work indoors (cashier, chemist, librarian, secretary, etc.) or outdoors (driver, firefighter, estate agent, etc.). Your choice may be based on your lifestyle or health condition.

- Full-time, part-time, flexitime jobs. There is no set pattern to part-time working. It may involve a later start and earlier finish time than a full-time position, working mornings or afternoons only, fewer working days in a week for less salary. It is a perfect variant for students who want to juggle their studies and work, as well as flexitime jobs. Employees decide by themselves when to begin and end their working day.

- Communication with different people. Meeting and dealing with people doesn't appeal to every person. Some people are not very sociable; on the contrary, they are timid, shy and diffident. Frankly speaking, it is a great talent to have communication skills. If you think you have it, you may choose a profession involving close contacts with people, such as a doctor, a journalist, a lawyer, a guide, a teacher.

- Business trips. You should keep in mind that some professions imply travelling all over the world, such as tour guides, scientists, actors, journalists, pilots and so on. It's not always fun. Business trips may last a week, a month and even more. You may be sent to London for a few days, then you'll spend only a few hours in Paris, and right after that, without any rest, you'll have to go to Berlin. Sometimes it turns out that you don't have even an hour for yourself just to relax and see the town you've come to. Such trips may be very exhausting and stressful. However, if you are young, ambitious and full of energy, you will be able not only to do your job successfully but also see the world.

- Aspiration for creative work. If you are a creative person, it's a must for you to find such job. It can be a job of an artist, a tailor, a designer or a stylist.

- Jobs connected with risk. Such jobs are usually well-paid, but very dangerous. A police officer, a fireman, a bodyguard, a lifeguard — these are the names of jobs which imply risk. Those, who want a rewarding but demanding job and who are ready to devote all their lives to it, may choose this kind of work.

Analyzing all these points will help you not to make a wrong choice.

In case you are an aspiring, responsible, creative, optimistic, reliable person, who is ready to learn and be laborious, who is not afraid of any difficulties of the future and ready to solve any problem with a smile, the world of jobs and careers will be open to you.

Choosing a career should not only be a matter of future prestige and wealth. Work should bring real satisfaction; otherwise your whole life will become dull and monotonous.

The profession of a computer programmer

When you leave school you understand that the time to choose your future occupation has come. It's not an easy task to decide what profession to choose. I have known for a long time that leaving school is the beginning of my independent life, the beginning of more serious examinations of my abilities and character.

I am interested in computer science (2) and want to be a computer programmer. I have a computer at home and can spend hours working at it. It is a completely new world. Computers greatly simplify (3) day-to-day life. It is much easier to do some things on the computer. It solves (4) in seconds the problems generations of mathematicians would need months or years to solve.

I think that the profession of a programmer will give me many opportunities. Computing is the most rapidly changing sphere of a modern technology. We are living in the age of information. Today it's even hard to tell all the uses the computer may have in the future. In our country they have been used just for a short time. But in England or in the US people can work, go shopping or communicate sitting at their computers.

So after finishing school I'm going to study computer science.

"Facing the real world"

– Have you already begun developing your plans for the future?

– It is very difficult to give a definite answer right now. But every time I am asked the question "What do you want to be?" I feel nervous. I usually never tell the truth and say "I haven't the slightest idea" and try to sound mysteriously.

– But why?

– That makes other people feel more nervous than me.

– Have you ever turned to your parents for advice?

– Oh. My mother is convinced that I should follow in the footsteps of my father and become a lawyer. My granny thinks that I should find a nice wealthy man to marry. And my father says "Just do what makes you happy". My uncle encourages me by promising a job in his company. Being child I wanted to be like a cashier in the supermarket with long hair, blue eye shadows and long fingernail moving the cash. But my mother would say "You are not suitable for the job like that. You are too smart". It is very difficult to face the real world after being spoon-fed with knowledge at school. And the question "What do you want to be?" never used to be threatening like now.

What if I choose the wrong thing and feel regret a mistake in future? Of course like everyone I have some skills and interests and inclinations. But they seem to be undeveloped and may not seem outstanding.

I realize that I should plan out the rest of my life and explore my choice from every angle, but I have never thought more than six months ahead.

There is one thing I know I wouldn't like to be "a square peg in a round hole".

14. Answer the questions and make dialogs.

What kind of job would you like to do? What skills do you need for the job you have chosen? Do you think you have the qualities required for the job you would like to do? What are they? Are you ready to work hard to make a career? What are your parents' attitudes towards your choice? 70 Would you like to be rich or famous? Would you like to work abroad?

What is a computer?

1. Computers are electronic machines, which can accept data in a certain form, process the data and give the results of the processing in a specified format as information. Three basic steps are involved in the process: first, data is fed into the computer's memory. Then when the program is run, the computer performs set of instructions and processes the data. Finally, we can see the results (the input) on the screen or in printed form.

2. Information in the form of data and programs is known as software, and the electronic and mechanical parts that make up a computer system are called hardware. A standard computer system consists of three main sections: the Central Processing Unit (CPU), the main memory and the peripherals. Perhaps the most influential component is the Central Processing Unit. Its function is to execute program instructions and coordinate the activities of all the other units. In the way it is the "brain" of the computer.

3. The main memory holds the instructions and data, which are currently being processed by the CPU. The peripherals are the physical units attached to the computer. They include storage devices and input/output devices. Storage devices (floppy or hard disks) provide a permanent storage of both data and programs. Disk drives are used to handle one or more floppy disks. Inputs devices enable data to go into the computer's memory.

4. The most common input devices are the mouse and the keyboard. Output devices enable us to extract the finished product from the system. For example, the computer shows the output on the monitor or prints the results onto paper by means of a printer. On the rear panel of the computer there are several ports into which we can plug a wide range of peripherals – modems, fax machines, optical drives and scanners. There are the main physical units of a computer system, generally known as the configuration.

Data – данные

software – программное обеспечение

hardware – техническое обеспечение

Unit – блок

peripherals – периферийные устройства output – выход данных Input - ввод

storage – запоминающее устройство

Nowdays electronic devices are in general usage. We are surrounded with electronics everywhere in everyday life and at plans and factories. The main component of everyday device is an integrated circuit. The operation of integrated circuit depends on the microscopic component quality. It is impossible to imagine scientific research without computers. At present personal computers are widely used at home and in offices. They make thousand calculations very quickly. Now computers capable of performing billions of operations a second are required. Such supercomputers make all operations simultaneously. We expect that in the future photon computers will be appeared and that computations will be done by means of light. Light has several advantages over electronic: light beams are faster, travel in parallel lines and can pass one another without interference. Thus a new age of light may replace the still youthful electronic age.

FUNCTIONS OF COMPUTER

A personal computer is a machine designed to follow instructions, which are called programs or software. The same computer can perform many different tasks by changing the software. The number of computer programs is almost unlimited.

Business and financial. A computer is an ideal tool for managing a company's books. It can easily, rapidly, and accurately calculate financial information. The computer can process your data and display your figures in many forms.

Writing and editing. Word-processing is the single most popular task for personal computers today. Unlike a typewriter, your words don't appear on paper right away. That's why you can make any changes you like, erase or insert something, check spelling, etc.

Desktop publishing. Desktop publishing allows you even more creative freedom in your writing and page design. Your final printed copy can be in many colours and with photographs.

Storage and retrieval. All computers have a good memory. They can retain words, numbers, and pictures in enormous quantities. Your database can hold any kind of information that's important to you.

Drafting and drawing. Any small computer can perform mechanical drawing or drafting. You can create your draft on the computer screen quickly and easily.

Graphic art. Using a computer you can create all sorts of images that are not possible with other media. Computer graphics are also used in business (for example, multicoloured pie charts, transparencies and others).

Communications. Computers can exchange information in a simple, efficient way. Using the modem, and other communications software, your computer can communicate with another computer.

Music. Today many electronic musical instruments, especially keyboards, can be connected to personal computers. An electronic keyboard sends musical tones to your computer in electronic form, then a computer alters the sounds and sends it back to the keyboard. Or sounds can be synthesized on the computer and then sent to the instrument to play.

Games. Computers make some of the best game-playing partners. Both children and adults enjoy playing computer games. There are many other uses of personal computers, too numerous to mention.

How to Make the Most of a Job Interview

If you've done your paperwork right, managed to arouse an employer's interest and landed a job interview, your real work is just beginning. It's one thing to impress somebody on paper or over the telephone, but it's another thing to impress in the flesh. A job interview is a business appointment in which everything counts in conveying a good impression. Experts will tell you that advance preparation is the key to interview success. Before you go to a job interview, find out all you can about the company. Depending on the results of your research, you are supposed to prepare an interview outfit that will make you look your very best. In most places you are not expected to wear a Chanel suit, but even if you are fresh from school don't think that your favorite blue jeans, an oversized sweater and screen-printed T-shirt will be right for projecting a businesslike image.

Many personnel managers will confess that they often turn candidates down for poor appearance; however, your looks alone will not help you get a job unless you are mentally psyched and prepared for the interview. It makes perfect sense to go through your resume once again and make sure you know the dates of important events. Another thing you can do is go through your personal achievements to make up your mind what you might want to present to an interviewer as an impressive argument in your favor. Before the interview, give yourself a good rest, budget your time well, prepare everything you need in advance, so as not to panic and get lost at last minute!

Every organization has its own culture, tradition, folklore and signs of deference. But there are some things to consider that may help everyone.

You know that in many positions your lack of experience is a big disadvantage. You can also compensate for your lack of experience with your qualifications, enthusiasm, ability to learn quickly, and most of all your sense of responsibility.

It's natural therefore that if you really want to get this job you must show yourself as a mature individual who is not acting on impulse, but is quite serious about his/her choices. Fight for your place in life: change a negative into a positive: you are young, but you are strong and can learn fast.

Определите, являются ли утверждения:

- a) истинными
- b) ложными
- c) в тексте нет информации

This is an interview for candidates who have successfully passed the first hurdle.
Many personnel managers often turn candidates down only for lack of experience.
Things like jeans and T-shirts are not suitable for a business office

17. Прочитайте и переведите диалог. Выпишите новые слова по теме:

Jack: Now you have a reasonable resume. By reading it your potential employer can see what abilities qualify you for a job as an electronics engineer. Your job objective is indicated. I hope your revised resume will lead to job interviews.

Peter: When thinking of an upcoming interview, I am really scared. My English is not good enough, and I don't know how to behave when being interviewed.

Jack: Before going to the interview, try to get information about the company or the job you would like to get into. For example, if you have an interview at a large electronics firm, you will make a better impression when you are familiar with articles about that company. Doing anything well takes some information. That implies to job hunting too. Any good library has books which will tell you the names of companies in industries of interest to you, as well as the names of people representing those companies.

Peter: You are perfectly right, Jack. But how can I overcome my nervousness?

Jack: If you are well informed your confidence is up. You are familiar with the American terminology in your field. You are an experienced specialist. People can tell when you are well prepared. You will be asked questions that you can answer easily. You won't be nervous in an upcoming interview. Your best guide is to rely on your own common sense. There are, however, some common rules for the interviews.

Peter: could you give me some examples?

Jack: When greeting the representative of the company, wait until he moves to shake hands. You should also wait until he offers you a seat.

Peter: But what about the usual questions people are asked in an interview?

Jack: The most common questions are, for instance: Why are you interested in joining our company? -Why do you feel qualified for this job? -What do you know about the company? -Do you enjoy working with others? — Are you willing to work overtime? -Tell me about your experience. -What can I do for you?

Peter: Are there any surprise questions?

Jack: You should anticipate questions as: Why should I hire you? -What are your three greatest strengths for this job?

Jack: In discussing your previous job, avoid criticizing former employers or fellow workers. Don't discuss your personal, domestic or financial problems unless you are specifically asked about them.

Peter: If I am offered a job, is it appropriate to ask questions referring to the salary?
